

Roy Wilkins Wins Third Prize in Oratorical Contest

Roy Wilkins, junior student at the University of Minnesota won third prizes of $25 in the annual Pillsbury Oratorical contest held at the university on Thursday night. Mr. Wilkin's speech was on the lynching evil. Mr. Charles Sawyer won second prize of $50 with a speech on Sovereignty vs International Law, and Sidney Benson won first prize of $100 with an oration on Soviet Russia.